

Mark Attendance — Teacher Guide

VTMS · vCrop Technologies

This guide explains every field on the Mark Attendance form and, most importantly, exactly which status to choose in each real-world situation. Read this once, and you should never be unsure how to fill in an attendance record again.

The form has two steps

Step 1 covers the day as a whole: which school, which date, and what kind of day it was. Step 2 is where you log each individual class you taught — but only appears in full when Day status is "Working". Choose anything else, and Step 2 collapses because there is nothing to log per class.

Step 1 — Date, School & Day status

Field	Purpose	Notes
School *	Which of your schools this record is for.	Only schools you are currently, actively allocated to appear here.
Date *	The date these classes actually happened.	Cannot be a future date — only today or earlier.
Classes assigned *	How many classes you are scheduled to teach at this school each day.	Fills in automatically from your allocation once you pick a school.
Classes conducted *	How many of those classes you actually taught today.	Cannot be greater than Classes assigned.
Day status *	What kind of day this was, overall.	Working / School Holiday / On Leave / All Classes Cancelled — see the scenario table below. This choice controls whether Step 2 class rows are needed at all.

Step 2 — Classes (one row per class)

Field	Purpose	Notes
Class *	Which class (grade) you taught.	Populated from your own allocation at the selected school.
Section *	Which section of that class.	Populated once Class is selected.
Subject *	The subject you taught this class.	Usually fills itself in automatically (badge shows "From allocation" or "From requirement"). Only shows a manual dropdown if neither is set for this class.
Class status *	What actually happened with this specific class.	Conducted / Cancelled from School End / Not Conducted from Teacher End — see the scenario table below. Sometimes auto-locked by the system if your Head Teacher already logged a formal cancellation.
Duration per class *	How many minutes this class ran for.	Auto-locked to 0 whenever Class status is Cancelled or Not Conducted — you only choose a real duration for Conducted classes.
Topics taught / Remark *	What you covered, or why the class didn't happen.	Always required, for every status — this is the one field that never gets skipped.
Homework / Assignment	Homework given for this class.	Optional. Disabled on non-Working days.
Homework file link	A shareable link to a homework file.	Optional. Must be set to "Anyone with the link" sharing (Google Drive / OneDrive) or reviewers won't be able to open it.

Which status do I choose? — Full scenario guide

This is the table that matters most. Find the row that matches your real situation, and use exactly the Day status / Class status it lists.

Your situation	Day status	Class status	What happens next
Normal teaching day, everything happened as planned	Working	Conducted	Fill in real duration and topics taught. Goes to your Head Teacher for approval.
School cancelled one specific class (event, school decision), and your Head Teacher has not raised a formal cancellation for it	Working	Cancelled from School End	Duration auto-locks to 0. Pending Head Teacher approval . Still billable to the Organization if there was no formal cancellation notice, or the notice was under 24 hours.
You personally could not take one specific class (unwell, emergency, etc.)	Working	Not Conducted from Teacher End	Duration auto-locks to 0. Auto-approved immediately. Never billable to the Organization, under any circumstance — this is your own gap, not the school's.
Head Teacher already raised a formal cancellation for this exact class	Working	(Locked automatically to) Cancelled	You will see a red note explaining this and won't be able to pick anything else for that row. Auto-approved — the Head Teacher already made this decision.
Head Teacher already raised a formal cancellation for the whole day / date range	(Locked automatically to) All Classes Cancelled	n/a — no class rows needed	A banner explains this the moment you pick the school + date. Auto-approved — the Head Teacher already made this decision.
Whole school closed for a holiday	School Holiday	n/a — no class rows needed	No class rows needed. Auto-approved immediately. Never billable.
You personally were on leave for the day	On Leave	n/a — no class rows needed	No class rows needed. Auto-approved immediately. Head Teacher, Org Admin and vCrop Admin are all notified.
Every class that day was cancelled by the school, and your Head Teacher has not raised a formal record for it	All Classes Cancelled	n/a — no class rows needed	No class rows needed. Pending Head Teacher approval . HT / Org Admin / vCrop Admin all notified.

Other things to know

Duplicate protection

You cannot submit the same class + section for the same school and date twice — either against an already-saved record, or twice within the same form. The form will show a clear red warning if this happens.

One record per non-Working day

You can only have one attendance record per school per date when Day status is not Working (Holiday / Leave / All Classes Cancelled) — and you cannot add a separate Working-day record for that same date afterwards.

Approval and billing

- Conducted classes always go to your Head Teacher for approval, and show as Pending until they act.
- Cancelled from School End and All Classes Cancelled also go to your Head Teacher for approval — unless your Head Teacher has already raised a formal Class Cancellation for that exact class or date, in which case it's auto-approved immediately since they've already made that call.
- Not Conducted from Teacher End is always auto-approved the moment you submit — there is nothing for the Head Teacher to review, since it's your own reason and it's never billable either way.
- Not Conducted from Teacher End is never billed to the Organization, regardless of anything else on record for that day.

Whether a Cancelled / All Classes Cancelled record is billable is decided independently of whether it's approved — it depends on whether a formal Class Cancellation record exists and how much advance notice it gave, not on the Head Teacher's approve/reject decision.

If a Head Teacher rejects your record

You can edit and resubmit the exact same record — you do not need to start a new one. The original rejection and reason stay visible in the record's history (Action trail) even after it is later approved, so nothing about what happened gets lost.

Always fill in Topics taught / Remark

This field is required no matter what status you choose. For Conducted classes, describe what you taught. For Cancelled or Not Conducted classes, briefly explain why — that note is what a reviewer sees later if anyone asks.
